SEVENTY DIE IN WINTER'S MOST VIGOROUS SWEEP

Shivering Nation Digging Itself Out Of Snow

Chicago, Jan. 20.—(AP)—A shivering nation slowly dug its way out of the most widespread snows of the season tonight.

In the wake of winter's severest assault, thousands of workmen labored to clear heavy drifts in the east and midwest and to repair the damage wrought by tornado winds in the south.

At least 70 deaths were tabulated, most of them attributed to traffic accidents on icy streets and highways. Others were laid to gales on land and sea, fire, exposure, overexertion and other causes attendant upon the weather.

Relief was promised virtually all the country except the frigid north-west and the deep south after sub-zero temperatures had been recorded in ten states and the mercury had dropped to 35 below in Pennsylvania. Nearly 50 fatalities were reported in the east following a paralyzing blizzard. Thirteen deaths were counted in New Jersey, 12 in New York City and five upstate, 12 in New England, ten in Pennsylvania, seven in Michigan and six in Ohio.

Manhattan recruited 50,000 men—half of them WPA workers—to remove the eight inch snow that fell in a "million dollar storm" officials predicted the last would require a week. Flying approached normal at the Newark airport but trains were held 15 minutes to an hour behind their schedule.

Drifts measured 28 inches in parts of Pennsylvania and 42 inches at Franciscia, N. H. Snowplows were wedged in the snow near Kane, Pa. In the Wheeling, W. Va. area, 25,000 miners were temporarily idle as their diggings were closed and many manufacturing plants curtailed operations when snowbound employees failed to reach their posts.

Give Italy Exact Hospital Location

London, Jan. 20.—(AP)—Great Britain, "in order that there may be no misunderstanding," has told Italy the exact location of English Red Cross units in Ethiopia, it was learned today.

An authoritative source disclosed that Maurice Ingram, British Charge d'Affaires in Rome, called upon Fulvio Sivich, Italian undersecretary for foreign affairs, Saturday and directed his attention to the location of British units. These reached Dessaye several days ago.

Ingram said the information was given "in the light of recent occurrences." By this he was understood to refer to the bombings of Swedish and American Red Cross units and hospitals in the war area.

Simultaneously, a reliable source reported that Great Britain is concentrating large military and naval forces in the Egyptian area.

The French fleet also has begun maneuvers in Mediterranean waters.

Governor Wants Whole Story Of Lindy Kidnaping

Hoffman Is Investigating All Angles Of Famous Kidnap-Murder Case

Trenton, N. J., Jan. 20.—(AP)—The "whole story" of the Lindbergh kidnaping was described tonight as the sole aim of Governor Harold G. Hoffman's personal investigation of the case, whatever effect it may have upon Bruno Richard Hauptmann's fate.

Should this convince him that Hauptmann was the sole perpetrator of the kidnap murder of the Lindbergh baby, the governor let it be known he would have no further desire to save the condemned man's life.

The thirty-day reprieve granted Hauptmann last week and the continued investigation of various phases of the case were said to be based solely on a desire by the governor for a complete solution.

Governor Hoffman made it known he was investigating all angles of the kidnaping in the hope that ultimately the results would be of value in removing any mystery still existing.

The governor has not as yet asked state police to pursue an investigation to determine whether other persons might have been involved but intends to do so.

Another visit would be made by the governor to Hauptmann in his death cell if he felt any good could be accomplished but Hauptmann has given no indication he has anything further to say.

Governor Hoffman's position on various phases of the case was made known as the New Jersey legislature assembled to hear a personal message from him on "social security."

Supreme Court Orders Return Of Processing Taxes

Administration's Request For Rehearing Denied By High Tribunal

Washington, Jan. 20.—(AP)—Riding roughshod over government objections, the Supreme Court today ordered the immediate effect of its decision invalidating AAA and requiring refund of $200,000,000 in impounded processing taxes.

The high tribunal's action, accompanied by rejection of an administrative request for a rehearing of the tax case, was taken with unusual speed at a suddenly-called afternoon conference.

Less than four hours earlier, Solicitor-General Stanley Reed had filed with the court a petition asserting that the tax decision, if permitted to stand, would "destroy essential safeguards to the orderly and uninterrupted collection of all federal taxes and imperil the normal functioning of government."

Immediate comment was not forthcoming from Reed, Attorney-General Cummings or their aides. But there was instant speculation in unofficial quarters of the far-reaching effect of the court's action in apparently definitely rejecting the hitherto recognized rule of "pay first and litigate later" in tax cases challenging a law's constitutionality.

The conference of the eight justices—Justice Vandeverter is confined to his bed by illness—also set February 4 for arguments on a government motion to dismiss an attack by Governor Talmadge of Georgia on the Bankhead cotton production control act.

An 11-minute court room session beginning at noon had failed to bring a decision on constitutionality of the Tennessee Valley power yardstick program. The court then recessed for two weeks, making the TVA ruling likely on February 3.

Water Level In Mine Is Falling

Johnston City, Ill., Jan. 20.—(AP)—Engineers reported today the water level in flooded Old Ben mine 18 had dropped only half an inch in the last 24 hours.

Efforts to block apertures in broken concrete seals through which the underground torrents tumbled apparently had met with little success.

Workmen who poured fifty bushels of corn and soybeans down a special drill hole said the material had failed to gun shut the broken seals as expected, a 17-foot rise of water in the drill hole making it difficult for the beans and corn to sink.

Another drill hole, six inches in diameter and more than 200 feet in length, is being bored to speed up the work.

The slight drop in the flood level was gained by extensive bailing in the main shaft. Almost five million gallons were dipped out in the 24-hour period.

BONUS BILL IS PASSED BY U. S. SENATE 74-16

Veterans Will Receive $50 Bonds Under Measure

By D. Harold Oliver
Associated Press Staff Writer
Washington, Jan. 20.—(AP)—A soldiers' bonus bill calling for payment of full 1945 maturity value in $50 bonds, was shoved to within a step of the white house tonight as the senate passed it along to a receptive house by a top-heavy vote of 74 to 16.

The nearly five to one majority rolled up for the Democratic-Republican, two billion dollar proposal was easily more than enough to pass it over a veto. The house already has approved immediate payment by an even greater majority—356 to 56—but without specifying the payment method. Some observers predicted a veto, but even Democratic leaders said it would be overridden.

Speaker Byrns said the "baby bond" bill will be taken up in the house Wednesday, allowing members a day's notice. Bonus leaders predicted house acceptance of the senate substitute by an overwhelming ballot.

A double defeat in the senate for payment of the World War adjusted service certificates in new currency was expected to influence house supporters of the inflationary Patman bill, vetoed last session, to refrain from pressing this issue.

Only nine Democrats and seven Republicans today voted against senate passage. Fifty-six Democrats, 15 Republicans, 2 Farmer-Laborites and the lone Progressive, LaFollette, replied in the affirmative.

The approved measure, introduced by Senator Harrison (D. Miss.) on behalf of Senator Byrns (D. S. C.), Steiwer (R. Ore.) and Clark (D. Mo.), would authorize appropriation of $2,237,000,000 and also make available $254,000,000 in the adjusted service certificate fund to defray the estimated ultimate cost of the bonus of $2,491,000,000.

Beginning July 15 next, the $50 bonds and as much cash as would be needed to take care of odd amounts, would be made available to around 3,500,000 bonus holders at local post-offices.

They could cash the bonds immediately or hold them as an investment. If held, they would pay 3 percent simple annual interest for nine years. If redeemed the first year no interest would be paid.

Troops Headed Toward Western Kentucky Mines

Governor Receives Report That One Man Killed, Several Hurt

Morganfield, Ky., Jan. 20.—(AP)—Troops headed today for Union county, northern tip of western Kentucky coal fields where the United Mine Workers of America and independent operators and unions have been struggling for supremacy.

Detachments from Hopkinsville and Marion were ordered out by Gov. A. B. Chandler after Union county's sheriff John Luttrell reported "one man was killed, several hurt, automobiles and motor trucks wrecked or damaged" and "men are roaming the county with high-powered rifles."

Gov. Chandler, who had the support of organized labor in his November election, emphasized that he was assigning troops as a "last resort" because officials claimed the situation beyond their control.

Troops moved toward Union county as funeral services were held at the Salem Methodist church, five miles from here, for Paul Meadows, 24-year-old Morganfield miner, who was shot from ambush Friday. Snipers fired on four automobiles and a truck carrying Meadows and other miners to work at the Kingston Coal and Coke Company mine, two and a half miles from here.

Three men were held in jail here today charged with the murder of Meadows. They were listed as Joe Carroll, 32, Jesse Ford, 27, and Logan Price, 30. Another man, booked as Kitty Estes, 33, was held for questioning.

Fast Train Hits Truck; 2 Killed

Caseville, Ill., Jan. 20.—(AP)—Two men were killed near here today when a coal truck in which they were riding was struck by the National Limited, fast passenger train of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad.

The accident occurred on a by-road leading to the Devil's Hole coal mine where one of the men, Irwin Bollmeier, of Caseville, was employed as a night watchman.

The other man killed was Edward Owsley, of St. Louis, driver of the truck which belonged to the Hanke Coal Co. of St. Louis. The men were apparently en route to the mine because the truck was unloaded.

PAIR SENTENCED

Fairfield, Ill., Jan. 20.—(AP)—Frank Bennett and Earl Finn, Mt. Vernon, were sentenced to from one year to life today after pleading guilty to the kidnaping and armed robbery of Dade Long, taxi driver, October 16.

Ernie Mason received a similar sentence when he pleaded guilty to robbing a Wayne City cafe May 5.

Ethiopians Have Surrounded Holy City Of Makale

Formal Communique Says Many Rebels Have Been Killed

By Albert W. Wilson
Associated Press Foreign Staff
Addis Ababa, Jan. 20.—(AP)—The Holy City of Aksum and Makale, for weeks in the hands of Italian invaders, were said by high government sources today to be practically ringed with thousands of Ethiopian warriors.

While a formal communique claimed many rebels had been slain and "half of them" taken prisoner in the western province of Gojjam, unconfirmed reports to the capital said Aksum already had been partly re-occupied.

The city is the supposed shrine of the true ark of the covenant and the ten commandments which, however, apparently never have been seen by mortal eyes. It stretches through the northern mountains for several miles.

Makale was the last northern town of importance captured by the Italians.

Ras Ayle, one of Emperor Haile Selassie's northern chieftains, was reported only 30 miles from Aksum a month ago, but informed Ethiopians said he could not be permitted the honor of entering the Holy City because he once was a bandit.

The Gojjam communique said the rebels in that province, whose activities have been blamed on Italian agitation, had been defeated in a battle near Debra Markos.

Forced to delay his trip for an hour because an Italian plane was overheard, Everett Andrews Colson, the Negus' American adviser, reached here by plane from Dessye.

Will Return Taxes To Many Packers

Chicago, Jan. 20.—(AP)—Packers and other processors who have approximately $42,000,000 in escrow here, in contested AAA taxes will be notified immediately, a government attorney said today, to "come and get it."

The attorney, Carl Perkins, special representative of the treasury department, announced he would take this action on receipts of news that the Supreme Court had ordered its AAA decisions into immediate effect.

About $7,600,000 of the impounded millions already has been ordered returned. Processors who put the rest on deposit tried unsuccessfully, as late as today, to obtain federal court orders releasing their funds.

MERIT SYSTEM

St. Louis, Jan. 20.—(AP)—Use of the merit system in choosing personnel to administer social security was advocated tonight by Fred A. Hoehler of Chicago, executive director of the American Public Welfare Association.

Hoehler spoke at a meeting of the St. Louis Regional Institute on the national social security act.

"More money can be wasted in this enterprise through poor administration than all of the political grafts ever appropriated to their own use," he said.

DIES PEACEFULLY AT SANDRINGHAM HOUSE AFTER BRIEF ILLNESS

MUCH PUBLICITY HAS BEEN GIVEN PRINCE WALES

New Monarch Was Born Forty-Two Years Ago

By the Associated Press.
London.—(AP)—The fierce glare of publicity focussed on the Prince of Wales—now assuming the throne as king-emperor—by the press and the people of almost all the literate world began playing upon him forty-two years ago this coming June.

There were telegrams and fast-working printing presses in those days, just as there are now, but the first people outside the royal family who knew that a prince had been born into the direct line of succession to the British throne, heard of it as their ancestors had learned of such happy events for ages—from the shouts and cries of a speeding horseman.

This horseman, a gentleman who had proudly predicted that the first of Queen Victoria's great-grandchildren would be a son, posted himself outside White Lodge, Richmond, as soon as he learned that the new Queen Mary was to have her accouchement there.

In the early hours of the morning of June 23, 1894, the Prince was born. Jumping into the saddle, the horseman rode furiously into London, a few miles down the Thames, shouting as he went, "A Prince! A Prince!"

The noise of his voice and clatter of his horse's galloping hoofs awoke dwellers all along his route. To the day of his death, this gentleman, who boasted that he was the first to announce the Prince's birth.

The public enthusiasm for the Prince of Wales which began that day as a national thing grew to be international. His popularity knows no boundaries, and is shared heartily by millions of people who do not speak his language or know anything much about the empire and the subjects he is destined one day to call his own.

Democratic peoples who live elsewhere than in Europe are often amused at the multiplicity of names which are wished upon aristocratic babies, and especially royal ones, at the baptismal fonts of countries that support monarchies. The Prince of Wales, with seven Christian names—Edward, Albert, Christian, George, Andrew, Patrick and David.

He is identified to their democratic fellowmen by one or two, or retical opposition to this policy of running the country from Washington, but without a statesmanlike program for the stimulation of industrial employment and for the stabilization of agricultural prosperity x x x the political future of the United States will not be determined in 1936, no matter which party wins.

In such event, the university president said, "1940 will likely see the rise of a new party, which may not be an extremely radical party in the sense of wholesale departure from the essential American tradition."

Alleged Kidnapers Placed On Trial

London, Ont., Jan. 20.—(AP)—Russell Knowles was committed for jury trial at the Jan. 27 Assizes after preliminary hearing today on charges of kidnaping John S. Labatt in August, 1934.

Preliminary hearing of Herman Kierdorf on charges in connection with the kidnaping, starts tomorrow. Knowles and Kierdorf were brought here from Ottawa, Ill., by Royal Canadian mounted police to stand trial.

Crown witnesses against Knowles were Michael McCarell, brought from Kingston penitentiary where he is serving a term for his part in the kidnaping, Labatt himself, Gerald Nicholson, who drove the car from which Labatt was released in Toronto, and Louis McCaughy, former Labatt salesman.

McCarell, known also as "three-fingered Abe," co-author of the ransom notes demanding $150,000 for Labatt's release, said he and Knowles, together with Albert Pegram, seized the wealthy brewer on a lonely road near London.

From the witness stand, Labatt said he could not identify Knowles as one of his captors.

EDWARD, PRINCE OF WALES HEADS LARGEST EMPIRE

First Bachelor In 176 Years To Ascend Throne

By Burdette T. Johns
Copyright, 1936, By The Associated Press.
Sandringham, Eng., Jan. 21.—(Tuesday)—Great Britain's beloved King George died peacefully last night just before midnight.

The Prince of Wales, his 41-year-old bachelor son, automatically became the king of the world's largest empire. The kindly, 70-year-old George V was unconscious at the end. Queen Mary, the Prince of Wales and other members of the royal family and the Archbishop of Canterbury were at the bedside when he died at 11:55 p. m. (6:55 p. m. Eastern Standard Time).

A sudden, four-day illness caused his majesty's death. He suffered an attack of bronchial catarrh, accompanied by heart weakness.

Weeping, the queen was led away supported by her eldest son—the new king—and the chamber was darkened. Later today the monarch's body will be taken to Sandringham church and then removed to London to lie in state in Westminster Abbey for final tribute from the public which loved him so well.

Parliament was called into session this afternoon.

The new king will return to London late today. He remained up until the early hours of the morning consulting his brothers about the funeral arrangements.

Wales became the first bachelor to be king of Britain in 176 years. On his arrival in London he will attend a meeting of the accession council, at which the Archbishop of Canterbury will be the home secretary. Sir John Simon, also will be present.

He indicated he would adopt the title "King Edward VII" through a message he sent to the Lord Mayor of London announcing his father's death. His grandfather, who died in 1910 and was succeeded by George, was Edward VII.

A bulletin by his three noted physicians said:

"Death came peacefully to the king at 11:55 p. m. tonight in the presence of Her Majesty, The Queen, The Prince of Wales, The Duke of York, The Princess Royal, The Duke and Duchess of Kent."

It was signed "Williams, Hewitt and Dawson."

It was only Friday afternoon that the public learned the king was confined to his room with a cold. A first bulletin issued on the king's condition that night disclosed he had suffered an attack of bronchial catarrh, accompanied by heart weakness.

His strength slowly ebbed and his heart action slowed down. The king died peacefully without pain.

Knowing the end was near, the royal family remained up throughout the long evening.

Rudyard Kipling's Body Cremated At Golders Green

Only Four Persons Present, One Representing Widow Of Writer

London, Jan. 20.—(AP)—The body of Rudyard Kipling, British poet and author who died Saturday, was cremated tonight at Golders Green, north of London.

Only four persons were present, one of them representing the wife of the writer who died five days after an operation for a perforated stomach ulcer.

There was a complete absence of ceremony. Until 10 minutes before the coffin arrived from the hospital where Kipling died, even officials of the crematorium were not aware the service was to take place, and had already closed the gates.

When Kipling is buried in Westminster Abbey Thursday he will have as pall bearers several of the most prominent figures of the empire.

The ashes of the poet-imperialist will be placed in the poet's corner of the abbey in a service attended by leaders of the political, military and literary branches of Britain's public life. The cremation ceremony to precede burial in the abbey was requested by Kipling himself.

Reelect Board Of Trustees At Annual Hospital Meeting

Reports Are Heard At Session Conducted At Passavant Hospital

The annual meeting of the board of governors of Passavant Memorial Hospital was held at the hospital recently. The following governors were reelected to the board of trustees for a period of four years: Dr. C. P. McClelland, Mrs. Wm. Floreth, M. R. Range and H. M. Andre.

Arthur Swain, president of the board of trustees reported on the improvements made on the hospital buildings during the past year. Improvements at the hospital and Nurses' Home are being considered. He brought out the point that the hospital is controlled by a board of trustees elected by the governors who are representatives of the Protestant people of Jacksonville and Morgan county.

M. R. Range as secretary reported that regular meetings were held each month and four special meetings were called. Mrs. Anne Swain, J. B. Peak and Arthur Swain were present at each meeting. On January 23 the death of the former superintendent, Mrs. Ida V. Rodgers, came as a sad blow to the hospital. Miss Dee Elsom was elected as acting superintendent and has since been in charge. Last spring the regular annual luncheon for the ministers of the churches associated with the hospital together with the officers of the medical staff was held with a good attendance.

The report of the treasurer, F. E. Farrell, was read and approved.

Miss Dee Elsom, acting superintendent, gave a report on the activities and management of the hospital. During the year a total of 1893 patients were treated. Of these 675 were outpatients who made 1231 visits to the hospital. The number of in-patient nursing days was 14,501, out-patient nursing days 1231. The average day was 43.1. In the surgical department 816 operations were performed. This was an increase of 13.5 per cent over the record for last year. The obstetrical department reports a total of 147 babies were born during the year. This was an increase of 53 per cent over last year. Included in the above were three pairs of twins and two caesarian sections.

The clinical laboratory also shows an increase in the number of procedures for the year, the total being 12,524 which meant that a total of 34,331 procedures were carried out each day the average number for each in-patient being 9.67. Two hundred and ninety-nine patients visited the X-Ray department. The dietary department prepared and served 105,677 meals. In addition 326 infant feedings were prepared. The isolation building was open 111 days and the following types of cases were cared for: measles, scarlet-fever, erysipelas, meningitis and streptococcus infection.

Changes In Personnel
A number of changes in personnel have taken place. The first occurred January 28 when Mrs. Ida V. Rodgers, superintendent passed away following an illness of short duration. Mrs. Rodgers had served the hospital as superintendent a period of approximately thirty years. She was untiring in her efforts to further the interests and make friends for the hospital. Since that time the present acting superintendent Miss Dee Elsom has been in charge.

To fill the vacancy as director of nurses Miss Lona Liebenstein, B. S., R. N., was secured. Miss Liebenstein is a graduate of Wesley Memorial Hospital School of Nursing, Chicago and MacMurray College, Jacksonville.

For some time there has been a growing demand for oxygen therapy. To meet this demand the hospital purchased an oxygen tent, which has been in use and has proved very effective.

Dr. George L. Drennan, secretary of the attending medical staff reported the following officers were elected for this year:

President—Dr. W. H. Newcomb.
Vice-president—Dr. A. G. Wolfe.
Secretary—Dr. Geo. L. Drennan.

Medical advisory committee—Dr. T. O. Hardesty, Dr. Carl E. Black, Dr. Geo. R. Bradley.

Dean of the training school—Dr. H. C. Woltman.

Advisory training school committee—Dr. H. C. Woltman, Dr. C. E. Cole, Dr. A. G. Wolfe.

Dr. H. C. Woltman, as dean of the training school and chairman of the advisory training school committee, stated that the work of the training school had been up to its usual standard. A number of members of the committee were called to discuss matters pertaining to the curriculum and training of the student nurses.

Miss Lona Liebenstein reported for the School of Nursing that there were sixteen nurses in the school, six new students were admitted in the fall and seven were graduated.

Miss Louise Gates Describes Life In Rio De Janeiro

Addresses Members Of A. A. U. W. At Meeting Here Saturday

The Jacksonville Branch of the American Association of University Women enjoyed a very interesting talk by Miss Louise Gates at its January meeting in the MacMurray College social hall on Saturday afternoon.

Miss Gates has recently returned from six months of travel and residence in South America, where she was sent as an official representative of our national Y. W. C. A.

Entering Rio de Janeiro in July, which is mid-winter there, the speaker was surprised to find that the temperature was as warm as here. She was impressed with the physical aspect of the Brazilian capital, its long white shore line bordering the blue Bay of Rio de Janeiro, its towering green mountain ridges and its flowering trees. Everywhere one saw black and gold butterflies and the brilliant blue ones whose wings are used in butterfly work.

One may find light-complexioned and dark-skinned people in the same family in this southern country.

Brazil is thinly populated and eager to secure immigrants. It has made special effort to see that its country is attractive to white Russians, German Jews and Italians, who have been coming in. Miss Gates

Be Sure and VOTE

Today, Mr. and Mrs. Citizen, you have a duty to perform. You are urged to go to the polls in your particular precinct and cast your vote for or against the three proposals you will find on the ballot. You are asked to decide whether the city of Jacksonville shall construct, own and operate commercially an electric power and light plant.

The question is one of the most important you as voters have ever been called upon to decide. It has a vital bearing on the future of your city. You have read and heard information on both sides of this question during a rather intensive campaign. Today the decision is up to you.

If you fail to vote, the issue may be decided by a minority of our citizens, which would be a mistake. If you vote, the decision will be the will of all the people, which is correct democratic government. It is important that this question be decided definitely by vote of a majority of the citizens of Jacksonville. BE SURE AND VOTE. Polls open at 6 a. m. and close at 5 p. m.

No Free Seed

Thousands of people throughout the United States are still asking the Department of Agriculture for free garden seed. The Congressmen seemed to send free seed to their constituents in 1923, but it is hard to break a universal habit. In that year the appropriation for free seed was discontinued.

Yet letters continue to pour into the Department offices in Washington, and clerks are at their wits' end trying to convince the people that there is no more free seed. They have appealed to the newspapers to help, and we are therefore telling our readers: Uncle Sam won't send you any free garden seed, because there isn't any.

We will also let you in on a secret. There was never any magic properties in the seed sent you from Washington. It was only ordinary commercial garden seed, the same as you can buy at any good seed house in your home community. The government had to buy it, and you were taxed to pay for it, so it was never really free.

Furthermore, part of the postal deficit was due to the Congressional franking of free seed all over the country, and you had to pay for that, too. For thirteen years now there has been no free seed, nor does the Department of Agriculture have any seed or plants for sale.

Unclaimed Hord

One of the saddest places in the world is the morgue of a large city. In New York fourteen persons, unfriended and unclaimed, die daily. If no relatives are found, their property is sold by the city and their bodies are buried without ceremony.

That means more than 5,000 such persons die yearly in New York alone. What the total for the nation may be is not known. Every large city has its own morgue and its own tragedies of lonely deaths. What these facts prove is that our civilization in its progress throws upon the sands of time many derelict human beings who have been compelled to end their lives in obscurity.

When one finds himself a derelict in society, perhaps he checks his career to see whether his course has been of his own choosing. Perhaps he has been a victim of circumstance beyond his control, but more often than not, he has made his own bed, and therefore must needs lie in it.

Permanent Registration

A special session to enact permanent registration laws for Illinois is in the offing. Here is a case in which a political fight may give the people a lucky break. Republicans in the legislature fought for such laws in previous sessions, but the Democratic majority controlled by Cook county would not let them pass.

It is generally understood that such a guarantee of saving a few cents a month on a light bill, a bonding of the future for 420,000.00 ought to be a good proposition. Vote "NO" three times. (Adv.)

a law would play havoc with the present registration setup in Chicago, by which the ruling powers shape the election results to their own liking. When all was harmonious in Illinois Democracy, no change in the law was desired.

But now there is war. Governor Horner has been rejected by the Kelly-Nash machine in Cook county. The enactment of permanent registration laws would seriously cramp the style of the machine, which explains why the Governor would like to have the legislature pass them. There is a rumor that downstate politicians have been whispering in the Governor's ear. After all, the people should get some benefit from politics.

Boys Will Be Boys

A conscientious Ohio mother recently refused her 11-year-old son permission to attend a two-gun, wild west thriller at the neighborhood theater, on the ground that it would be too exciting. Instead, she held out the relatively dull prospect of a heavier, "more grown-up" movie coming the following week.

The boy protested loudly, lost the argument and then left the house. His mother next heard of him from coastguardsmen, who had rescued the boy from a block of floating ice in Lake Erie. Lacking the excitement of the movie, he had gone out to seek some in real life—and had found it in over-abundant measure.

In this way that mother learned the fundamental fact of youth, that its energy—somewhere, somehow—will have an out.

This is no brief for the galloping thriller, but so long as boys will be boys the little theater around the corner may provide a fairly safe playground for the youngsters, after all.

THANKS

to stabilize agricultural production at about present level. More milk could be produced, but an increase isn't recommended in view of the market situation.

Acreage Changes Proposed
Estimates as to acceptable goals of production have yet to be worked out, taking into account other factors, such as price and demand. But the following approximate changes in national production have been proposed, chiefly on the criteria of methods of production and soil conservation.

Crop land: 355,000,000 acres, as against a normal 360,000,000.
Corn: 2,250,000,000 bushels, against a normal of 2,510,000,000.
Oats: 1,100,000,000 bushels (long-time recommendation, 1,200,000,000, as against 1,130,000,000).
Wheat: 722,000,000 bushels (long-time 788,000,000), as against 878,000,000.
Cattle: 136,000,000 hundred-weight and 143,000,000 (long-time), as against 132,000,000.
Hogs: 134,000,000 hundred-weight and 141,000,000 (long-time), as against 151,000,000.
Cotton: 14,000,000 bales and 14,800,000, as against 15,600,000.
Milk: 13,000,000,000 and 14,000,000,000 gallons, as against 11,800,000,000.
Hay: 100,000,000 and 115,000,000 tons, as against 83,000,000.

Cotton Boost Over 1935
A recommendation of 38 million acres of cotton would mean about 11 per cent more than the 1935 acreage, but 34 per cent more than the 1933 acreage under AAA. Wheat acreage would be about 23 per cent under 1935 and about the same as 1935.

While these figures may serve as a rough working base or even as a possible goal, they are by no means to be regarded as a forecast of what AAA is likely to propose at the outset of a new program.

If the Municipal Plant does not pay, what shall be done? Open the doors for special assessments. Vote "NO" three times. (Adv.)

Waverly Farmer Is Fire Victim; Scott Man Fatally Burned

One Morgan county farmer was burned to death in his home south of Waverly Sunday morning, and a Scott county man died at a Jacksonville hospital early yesterday as the result of fires Sunday. The victim of the Waverly blaze was Peter Craven, 67, a well known farmer, whose body was practically cremated when his home burned.

At Glasgow, Archie Hester, 34 year old father of six children, was fatally injured when he threw fuel oil into a stove. He died at Our Saviour's at 12:30 o'clock yesterday morning.

There were no witnesses to the Waverly tragedy as Craven lived alone in a farm house, 13 miles south of there. It is believed that Craven, also, threw oil into his heating stove to start it, as the charred remains were found in a position neighbors said was near the stove.

Craven formerly was a resident of the Pisgah community and is well known throughout the county.

Fire Seen by Neighbor
The fire was first discovered at 6:10 o'clock Sunday morning by Mrs. William Points, who lives a half mile north of the Craven farm. Mrs. Points spread the alarm but the flames already had doomed the house and when neighbors arrived it was impossible to enter the dwelling.

When inquiry failed to locate Craven a search was made in the ashes as soon as the progress of the fire permitted. The charred bones were found in the basement directly under what had been the living room.

The stove, which fell into the basement, was near the farmer's remains. This led neighbors to believe that Craven's clothing probably caught fire while he was engaged in kindling the stove.

Man Was Not Sleeping
Craven's bed was located in the southwest corner of the room. The body was under the east side of the room, disproving the theory that he was asleep in bed at the time of the fire.

Coroner Elmer Sample, of Jacksonville, went to the scene of the tragedy and after securing several witnesses, held an inquest at the home of William Points. The verdict was merely death by accidental burning.

Truman Farmer, of near Waverly, testified that he made a trip to Jacksonville with Mr. Craven Saturday returning home about 6 o'clock that evening. Farmer was the last person to see Craven alive. Other witnesses were members of the Points and McDevitt families. Jurors were William Points, Henry Sanks, Edward Crouse, Joseph Melomine, W. L. McDevitt and Ralph DeLong.

Mr. Craven, a native of Kentucky, lived in Morgan county for many years. He was unmarried. Surviving are a half brother, Fred Craven, of Modesto; a nephew, Charles Craven, and niece, Mrs. Mary Baker, both of Waverly. There are two grand-nephews, George and Jesse Baker.

The funeral will be held this afternoon at one o'clock at the Waverly Baptist church, Rev. Hostetter and the Masonic lodge in charge.

Interment will be made in Vandell cemetery, south of Waverly.

The Glasgow Tragedy
Archie Hester, the Glasgow man, was fatally burned at 6:30 p. m. Sunday when he used a two gallon can of fuel oil to start a fire in a stove. There was a burst of flame and Hester's clothing ignited.

Cloyd Young, his father-in-law, rushed to his aid and took the flaming clothing from the victim's body. Hester was brought to Our Saviour's hospital where he lived only a few hours.

A coroner's jury impaneled early yesterday morning found Hester died from shock and burns that extended over his entire body. The jurors were James W. Burke, George Eades, James Winn, Merle Redding, Harvey Dowling and John S. Burke.

Editor, People's Forum,
Jacksonville Journal and Courier,
Jacksonville, Ill.

Dear Sir:

This letter is written to acquaint the motoring public with information vital to its interests. I shall appreciate your printing it in the People's Forum column.

In the interval since the 1935 license plates were released to car owners, it has come to my knowledge that a number of them have deteriorated. The state's contract, awarded through competitive bidding to the C. H. Hanson Company of Chicago, specified that the enamel be of the best quality and applied in a manner and be sufficiently heavy to withstand ordinary usage for the period of one year from January 1, 1936. The fact that we have received complaints indicates that specifications have not been adhered to in every instance.

I wish to assure the motorists of Illinois that all damaged plates shall be replaced without cost or inconvenience to them. A postal card directed to the Chicago office of the Secretary of State, 120 South Ashland avenue, or to Springfield, will insure prompt delivery of a new set of plates.

I have already taken steps to protect the State of Illinois from any financial loss incidental to the replacing of such plates as may have been damaged. At the time of the letting of the award the manufacturer was required to post a bond guaranteeing satisfactory execution of the contract. We have served formal notice on both the manufacturers and the Fidelity and Casualty Company of New York, their bondsmen, that "there is evidence of faulty manufacture and that the state's contract has not been complied with and that if not complied with, any and all steps necessary shall be taken to protect the rights of the State of Illinois."

Thanking you for the courtesy of publishing this letter, I am
Yours very truly,
Edward J. Hughes,
Secretary of State.

Pike County Man Found Guilty of Brother's Murder

Jury Fixes Punishment of William Hook at 25 Years in Prison

Pittsfield—William Hook, 43-year-old Pike county farmer, was found guilty of the murder of his brother, John, by a circuit court jury, which fixed his punishment at twenty-five years imprisonment.

The jury, which took the case at 10 p. m., Saturday, announced an agreement at 9 a. m., Sunday after an all night session. Defense attorneys moved for a new trial Judge A. Clay Williams said he probably would hear arguments on the motion today.

The jury had the power, upon a verdict of guilty, to fix the punishment at death, life imprisonment or imprisonment for not less than fifteen years. State's Attorney Merrell Johnston made no recommendation as to the sentence. If the action of the jury stands, Hook will be sent to Chester state penitentiary.

Hook was born and reared in New Salem community and became a successful farmer there.

The blaze got into the second story on the front part of the house, but did little damage there. The roof of the rear part was practically destroyed and considerable damage was done to the interior. Furniture from the first floor was carried to safety.

While the first crew was busy at the Wright home, a second alarm was turned in from the residence of Othello Holway, 220 West Douglas avenue, members of the family were thawing out a frozen water meter. A gas pipe nearby which evidently had a leak, took fire. There was little damage.

Stage Hot Race in Louisiana Democrat Primary

These eight candidates seek the four major places on the Democratic ticket in the Louisiana primary, with nomination being equivalent to election. The four on the left side of the layout are choices of the Huey Long machine and the other four of the "Home Rule" faction. Gov. O. K. Allen and Frank Looney are rivals for the unexpired term of the "Kingfish" in the U. S. Senate and Speaker Allen Ellender and Representative John N. Sandlin for the full term. Earl Long, Huey's brother, and Clement Moss seek the lieutenant-governor post. The machine campaign was based on the claim that Long's policies had brought many benefits to the state, while the "Home Rule" orators made sweeping charges of graft and corruption, especially in oil leases. More than 200,000 voters were added to the polling list, as result of abolition of the poll tax requirement.

"I never have to disappoint them... because my Plymouth never fails.

"Ride that route with me some night, carrying half a ton of finals, and you'll see why I picked Plymouth."

Safety is just as important as reliability to Mr. Dombrow. "I wouldn't even ride in a car without genuine hydraulic brakes," he says.

His earlier model Plymouth cost him far less for upkeep or repairs than any other car he has ever owned.

"And my new Plymouth," he declares, "is giving me 18 miles to the gallon of gas in city traffic... 22 miles out on the road."

Jerseyville's Tax Rate Raises Four Per Cent This Year

Rate Announced as $3.80 Per Hundred; Decrease Seen in Valuations

Jerseyville, Ill.—County Clerk Frank Seago and his deputy, Mrs. Minnie Hesley, began the spreading of taxes on the books in Jersey county Friday. Although the railroad valuations were received several weeks ago the work on the tax books was held in abeyance awaiting the decision of the legislature as to the pauper relief.

In the city of Jerseyville a four cent increase in the total tax rate was made this year over that of last, the rate being $3.80 as compared with $3.76 for last year. The rates are as follows: County bond 10½c; county highway 12½c; county tax 16c; town tax 10c; road and bridge 25c; corporation tax 67c; public benefits 17c; library 10c; municipal bond 6c; Jerseyville grade school 88c; high school 95c; pauper 14c; blind pensions 5c; mothers' pension 4c.

We'll wager 2 to 1 that you'll like Double-Mellow OLD GOLDS

DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK

if it isn't the finest cigarette you ever smoked

LAST OCTOBER we issued a daring challenge to the smokers of the nation. We said, in effect, if the new Double-Mellow Old Golds don't give you a thrill, we'll pay the bill and pay it double.

Never before had such an offer been made on a cigarette. But we made it with our eyes open. The prize crop tobaccos in Double-Mellow Old Golds fully justified this 2 to 1 wager.

For the benefit of those smokers who overlooked this offer, we repeat it again today. Smoke half a pack of Double-Mellow Old Golds. If it isn't the finest smoke you ever tasted . . . just mail us the remaining cigarettes and the wrapper, at any time before May 1st, 1936, and we'll send you double the price you paid for the full package . . . plus postage.

Blueboys Give Neat Exhibition In Defeating Sparks 55 To 29

Lukewarm Visitors. Plus Lou Lasiter and Freddie May. Too Much For Sparks Zone Defense

Smoothness, amounting almost at times to the form they showed last year when they won a championship, carried the Illinois College Blueboys to an exciting victory over Sparks Business College, of Shelbyville, 55 to 29, on the I.S.D. boards last night when the visitors failed to warm up to their task of shooting baskets, and they failed to find a defense that could shake off Lou Lasiter and Freddie May.

Up to some of his best tricks this far this year, Lasiter played a whole of a defensive game, along with pitching in 18 points to lead the scoring. Freddie May played only half of the game, but he was given his head, and turned in 12 points, all from the field with the best shooting he has accomplished this year.

Illinois trailed only once as they rode over the visitors, who whipped them 55 to 44 in Shelbyville, just a slight indication of the advance made by the Blueboys during the first three weeks of the year. Bothered at first by the zone defense, the Blueboys later solved the puzzle and then began a fast break which ripped their defense to shreds.

Main and fancy ball handling, that left the Sparks players diving at the man who did not have the ball kept up the interest in what might have been a drab exhibition of the indoor sport. Cecil and Virgil Fletcher, and Nick Watts, starters for the Blueboys, kept working their way basketward and then shooting passes to Lasiter after he had been left alone near the hoop as the crowd in the various zones became too much for one man to handle.

The Sparks guards didn't dare leave Lasiter loose, and when they left the other Blueboys open to cover him the others went in for shots, sometimes sinking them, and sometimes missing.

leaving the ball rebounding where it was a simple matter for Lasiter to reach up in the air and bump it back into the mesh.

Then, when Sparks pulled their defense close to the hoop, May went in to the game and began sniping at the hoop from along sidelines with telling effect. Here was another danger, and a threat which Sparks never did find a means of checking. May ripped in a couple from the side, and then led a fast breaking attack that got the ball to the cage before the Sparks defense had a chance to get set.

Sparks had tough luck with their shooting in the first half, but none of their players had time to get set for ringers. They broke up most of the Illinois thrusts for the first ten minutes of the game, picking bounce passes off the floor and converting them into quick drives for the basket, but after they had worked the count to a 6 all tie, they fell away steadily. With five minutes to go in the first half, May went into the game, participated in one of the neatest bits of passing of the game when three Blueboys handled the ball on short passes under the goal as one Sparks player tried to get it, and then tossed in a couple of baskets to give Illinois a 20-10 lead.

Sparks lost Wallace, their towering center, who formerly played basketball with "Bud" Colins Neoga quintet, shortly after the second half began, and from then on the visitors had nothing that could compare with the Illinois team. Illinois doubled the score at 30-15, had it doubled again at 36 to 18, and almost had it doubled when the game wound up.

Several times during the game the Blueboys resorted to fast breaking tactics, living long passes down the floor to get the ball to the hoop ahead of the Sparks defense. Virgil Fletcher and May worked together on most of these quick bursts, with Watts, Lasiter and Cecil Fletcher on the throwing end of accurate passes.

Bearcats for punishment, Franklin high will come to Jacksonville tonight for a dobbie header with the Crimsons. The Flashes, aptly named, play here tonight, at Ashland Wednesday night in the tournament, and have a game tentatively scheduled at Bluffs Friday night.

We've become rather well acquainted with the Flashes this year, and they have been just what their nickname implies. They can turn on the heat—witness their victories over Ashland, New Berlin and Waverly, and they can skid pretty far down the list of teams.

If they're going, they'll make the Crimsons step. If they're not clicking, the Crimsons should win easily.

Assignments for a new record number of teams in regional tournaments sponsored by the I.H.S.A.A. will be announced today. A total of 862 teams will compete for the state championship, now resting in Springfield.

Advance information is that some of the regionals are losing some of the teams which have been competing in certain centers for a long time.

We also hear that in regionals to which only 13 teams have been assigned, the eight teams rated low in the regional will compete for three places in the regionals in a district tournament.

It was our understanding that all districts would have 14 teams, but some of the regionals had to be cut down to 13 teams. District tournament centers will be announced later, after coaches and principals have had an opportunity to rate the teams in the regional.

The University of Michigan is finding a problem in its three tall basketball players. They are running up expenses on road trips. The boys are so tall that they can't sleep in a single Pullman berth, and as a result, the manager has to buy two berths each for the boys. It's a good thing Louis Lasiter doesn't have to ride the Pullman.

Speaking of the Wesleyan team that beat Illinois the other night, Athletic Director Van Meter said he doubted that Coach Harry Bell could pick out a starting line-up and stick by it game after game. He has ten players. Van Meter avers, all of whom are just about as good as the other.

The exception is Dennis Cochran, a freshman from E. St. Louis, who has a lot of Jim Winn's characteristics. Cochran wasn't as effective against Illinois as he was against most of the previous seven Wesleyan victims.

The Illinois College's basketball schedule for February is as follows: February 1—McKendree here. February 8—Southern Normal here. February 13—At Millikin. February 15—Wesleyan here. February 21—Carthage here. February 22—At Principia. February 23—At North Central.

Augie Gelan, Chicago Club outfielder, claims one of the most unique records in baseball. He played through 154 games last year and not once did he hit into a double play.

And Pittsburgh Pirate owners are asking more for Woody Jensen, an outfielder, than they are for Paul Waner, club owners interested in making a purchase have found.

Illinois College swimmers have arranged for a duel meet with Illinois Wesleyan, to be run off when the Titan basketball team comes down for a game. The meet will be held in the Illinois School for the Deaf pool.

Coughlin's Offer of Funds is Rejected

Nye Expects to Get More for Munitions Probe

Washington—(AP)—Money offered by the Rev. Father Charles E. Coughlin of Detroit to keep the munitions investigation from being killed by indignant senate Democrats was declined today by Senator Nye (R., N. D.).

"There is not any constitutional or legal right for him (Father Coughlin) to finance completion of the investigation," said Nye. "The committee could not accept such funds. Father Coughlin is undoubtedly speaking the mind and will of a great many people to see the investigation completed."

Assailed last week by Senator Glass (D., Va.) for saying Woodrow Wilson "falsified," Nye announced that further hearings had been cancelled temporarily. J. P. Morgan and partners will not be recalled to testify next Thursday as planned.

Nye said "I think we will get" the $7,000 to $9,000 needed to wind up the committee's work, but other legislators expressed strong doubts.

Dan McGugin, Coach At Vanderbilt, Dead

Succumbs to Heart Attack on Visit with Law Partner; Was 56 Years Old

Nashville, Tenn.—(AP)—Death has closed the career of Daniel Earl McGugin, 56, "Grand Old Man of Southern Football" and Vanderbilt's head coach for three decades.

McGugin died unexpectedly yesterday of a heart attack while visiting John R. Aust, his law partner.

The funeral was set tentatively for Tuesday.

McGugin's death cast a pall of gloom over Dixie universities, as he was dean of the South's football coaches.

Born on an Iowa farm, he was a graduate of the University of Michigan Law School and a member of the great "point-a-minute" teams of Ann Arbor.

McGugin came south in 1904 to take over the football coaching post at Vanderbilt. He held that position 31 years and several years ago added to it that of athletic director.

His first Commodore team in 1904 swept aside eight opponents for an undefeated season.

One of his proudest accomplishments was in holding Michigan to a 0-0 tie in 1922 when that team coached by his old mentor, Fielding H. Yost. He also scored notable inter-sectional victories over Minnesota, Ohio State and Carlsberg.

He handed the active coaching reign over to Ray Morrison after the completion of the 1934 season, retaining his title of athletic director, in order to devote more time to his law practice and because he thought he had "served long enough."

His life was filled with many honors, one of which was the presidency of the National Football Coaches association in 1933.

Surviving are his widow and three children, Mrs. Pugh C. Moore, Dan E. McGugin, Jr., a member of his father's law firm, and Leonard McGugin, student in the Vanderbilt Law School.

Excellent Skating On Lake Announced

Snow Cleaned from Thick
Ice; Large Crowd Under Lights Last Night

Skating on Morgan lake is good again, due to the zero temperature which has prevailed the past two days, and especially during Sunday night. Supt. Frank Robinson of the local parks, and a large force of men were busy Monday cleaning the snow from a wide area swept by the lights, which were turned on last evening. Nearly 100 skaters enjoyed the sport.

The ice is at least a foot thick. During the warm spell it thawed only a little on top and now that is frozen into a smooth slick surface. The men worked with wheelbarrows yesterday and the snow was hauled from the ice in a dump wagon, which was shunted back and forth across the lake without harm to the ice.

The schools and colleges of the city were notified of the excellent skating and a large crowd turned out last night. The light illuminated a large area near the concession stand.

The original name of Voltaire, the French author, was Francois Marie Arouet.

Beginners' Band to Be Organized Soon In Public Schools

A. L. Freeman Plans Instrument Tests This Week at Grade Schools of City

The instrumental department of the Jacksonville public schools, under the supervision of A. Lee Freeman, is starting a beginners' band this week. All students from the fifth grade up are entitled to free instruction in class groups.

Mr. Freeman will meet students at all the schools and give tests on the various band instruments. In that way the student has an opportunity to try each instrument, and also the instructor has a chance to determine which instrument is suited to the individual child. In the evening Mr. Freeman will meet the parents of the children and talk over the results of the tryouts and arrange for instruments.

A schedule for the tests is as follows: Franklin school—Tuesday, 2 p. m. Jefferson school—Tuesday, 3-15 p. m. Washington school—Wednesday, 3 p. m. David Prince school—Thursday, 3 p. m. Lafayette school—Friday, 3 p. m. The parents will meet at 7 to 8:30 p. m. at their respective schools the same day of the tests. It is the hope of Mr. Freeman that every child will participate, and that many will take up instruments. Every year a group is started and then advanced to the junior and senior bands as they are qualified.

Wesleyan Becoming Talk of Conference

Tied with Western Teachers in Fight for Little Nineteen Cage Title

Chicago—(P)—Illinois Wesleyan, currently attracting most of the interest in the Illinois Intercollegiate Conference basketball competition because of victories over Southern Teachers and Millikin, will again be in the thick of action this week.

Tied with Augustana and Western Teachers for first place, Wesleyan will meet State Normal and St. Viator this week. The three teams bracketed at the top have each won four games, while State Normal has won three and St. Viator two for positions near the head of the list. Knox is also undefeated.

Since Normal and St. Viator are also scheduled to clash, any one of three teams must vanquish two of its hottest competitors to remain in the undefeated class, and at least two are certain to topple from the lofty position.

Western Teachers coasting along in the front flight, also face a stern test this week as they engage Millikin. Coach Ray Hanson's Macomb five trampled Eureka 72 to 29 last week and then noosed out Bradley, 38 to 35. Augustana will be put to the test this week by Bradley, while Knox will play at Carthage in an attempt to stretch its victory string.

Built Soon; Bids to Be Opened Jan. 31

Bids for construction of 1.26 miles of pavement known as the "Franklin gap" will be received and opened at state highway department offices in Springfield Jan. 31 at ten a. m. Notice of the call for bids was received here yesterday by W. J. Casler, county superintendent of highways.

The gap extends from a point northwest of Franklin to a point southeast of the village near the Franklin outing club grounds. It is the last connecting link in Route 104 through Morgan county.

Practically all of the right-of-way has been secured by the county commissioners during the past two months, since the state department decided to route the pavement through the edge of Franklin. Two condemnation suits will be necessary to clear up the route.

The gap is expected to be laid and ready for traffic early in the summer.

EDWARD, PRINCE OF WALES HEADS LARGEST EMPIRE

Just before midnight the doctors realized death was imminent and hurriedly summoned Queen Mary, The Prince of Wales and the other members of the royal family.

It was the 26th year of George's reign through an eventful period of world history during which he won the love and respect of his 450,000,000 subjects.

His death came as a shock because the formation of a council of state today gave the British people hope that it would be merely a prolonged illness and that recovery was possible.

The king's last official act was the signature of a document transferring most of his authority and duties to a council of state at a privy council held at 12:15 p. m. today.

The queen, whose iron self control had kept her calm, broke down and wept when her husband died.

The king had just passed triumphantly through the year of the silver jubilee celebration and had spent Christmas with his family at Sandringham house, his favorite country home.

The strain of the jubilee's affairs and the death early in December of his sister, Princess Victoria, hastened the end.

News of the death was immediately flashed to the far corners of the empire on which "the sun never sets" and to British ships at sea.

King George's last wish was granted—he had always hoped his last hours would be spent in quiet and peaceful Sandringham house.

The bulletin announcing his death was immediately posted at "jubilee" immediately outside the house. It was read in complete silence by a group of villagers, who bared their heads and then, tears in their eyes, walked slowly homeward along the dark lanes.

Within the death chamber at Sandringham, the Queen turned from her dead King to her eldest son for support.

Presumably, the new King will adopt the title of "Edward VIII"—his grandfather, who died in 1910, was Edward VII. He may adopt any name he chooses.

Shortly after his father's death Wales sent a message to the Lord Mayor of London which he signed "Edward" further confirming the belief he would adopt this title.

As Prince of Wales he had comforted her through the fateful hours before death and as monarch his first act was to support her in her hours of greatest grief.

Slowly and sadly the royal family moved out of the death chamber to converse together in low tones.

For the new King—no longer the "playboy" he once was called—there were but a few hours for private sorrow.

Duty will call him to London almost immediately to assume, with traditional ceremony, the mantle of Kingship.

Lord Wigram, King George's private secretary, immediately left Sandringham for London to confer with Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin.

The only member of the royal family not at Sandringham was the Duke of Gloucester, who is ill at Buckingham Palace of a sore throat. The Duke of York, second son of the King and Queen, automatically became first in line of succession to the throne.

King George, it was disclosed, had been in a state of semi-coma for two days except for brief intervals. He was able, however, to recognize the Queen today and to sign the document creating a council of state.

Parliament will meet tomorrow afternoon in obedience to an act which requires that it assemble after a sovereign dies.

The Archbishop of Canterbury, head of the Church of England, was present at the bedside with the family.

An official notice issued late tonight in London at 10 Downing street, seat of the government, said:

"In pursuance of the succession to the Crown Act, 1707, parliament must immediately meet on the demise of the crown.

"Arrangements accordingly have been made for the house of lords and the house of commons to meet Tuesday, the 21st of January, at 6 p. m."

After the new king left her, Queen Mary, now the Queen Mother, went to her bedroom. She was weeping and the princess royal, the Countess of Harewood and the Duchess of Kent tried to console her.

George died almost at the same hour as his father, King Edward VII, whose death in 1910 occurred at a quarter hour before midnight.

His death also occurred 35 years almost to the day after that of Queen Victoria, his grandmother. She died Jan. 22, 1901.

Down the darkened drive from Sandringham house a handheaded youth came riding a bicycle with a dim oil lamp flickering in front of him.

The last bulletin posted at "Jubilee Gate" was done with rural simplicity. In an old brown leather case, which he carried in one hand while the other gripped a handlebar, he brought the announcement of the death of the sovereign of the world's largest empire.

The chimes of the Sandringham church clock, striking half an hour after midnight, had just died away. Only the moaning of the wind through the elms bordering the drive broke the silence.

The youth, without dismounting, delivered the message at the lodge gate to one of the king's servants. The bulletin was then taken out of the case and slowly, in the light of two great lanterns of the lodge, the gatekeepers walked across the drive and posted it.

The body of the king will be removed to Sandringham church Tuesday. Later it will be brought to London to lie in state in Westminster Abbey, where the populace will have the opportunity to pay final tribute to the beloved monarch.

Orders were given for the army and navy to go into mourning. Saluting stations throughout the empire will fire minute guns at noon Tuesday for each of the 70 years of the king's life.

Japanese Foreign Minister Speaks To His New Diet

Koko Hirota Expounds His Three Point Program On Foreign Relations

By Glenn H. Babb
Associated Press Foreign Staff
Tokyo, Jan. 21.—(Tuesday)—(AP)—Foreign Minister Koki Hirota, speaking before the reconverted Japanese diet, expounded today a 3-point program for the "readjustment of relationships between Japan, Manchoukuo and China."

He urged, too, the "proper adjustment" of relations between Japan, Manchoukuo and the Soviet Union; called attention to the "excessive military works" which, he said, Russia has erected in eastern Siberia; and promised the "friendly policy" of Japan toward the United States and Great Britain would not be changed by developments at the London naval conference.

Japan last week withdrew from the five-power parity when her demand for fleet parity was refused.

The Japanese foreign minister also expressed hope for the "smooth progress" of the new Philippine commonwealth and injected a note of criticism for statesmen "who seem determined to impose upon other their private convictions as to how the world should be ordered, and who are apt to denounce those who oppose their dictates as if they were disturbers of the peace."

Then he declared:

"We succeeded in building up our national strength and prestige by adding and adapting to our civilization occidental arts and sciences which have imported during the past years."

"Now it is time for us, I believe, to try to introduce our arts and culture to other lands and thus contribute toward international good understanding and to enrichment of world civilization and promotion of the peace and happiness of mankind."

Eight Miners Are Entombed By Blast In Colorado Mine

Rescue Workers Digging In Tons Of Debris To Save Workmen

Lafayette, Colo., Jan. 20.—(AP)—Rescue workers tore doggedly at tons of debris in the Monarch coal mine tonight where eight miners were entombed by a mysterious blast a mile below the surface.

Calling for new oxygen tanks, rescue crews pressed slowly forward, with little hope of finding the men alive.

"It looks like hell down there," reported Kelly Parson who went down with the first rescue crew.

"Far as we could see, the whole place down there is wrecked," Deputy Coal Mining Inspector J. W. Graham told distracted wives and children of the trapped men after a trip down the main shaft. The families kept an anxious vigil at the mine entrance.

The explosion occurred at 6:30 a. m. Rescue crews went without a hint as to the fate of the men. Hope was maintained because of the continued operation of the mine's ventilating system. It was impossible to determine, however, whether the air was reaching the entombed miners.

Six of the eight were working on fire walls, concrete slabs, cemented against a part of the mine where a fire has been burning for years, the two others were mining.

"I don't know what happened," said William Jenkins, who, with Nick Delizzo, escaped from the shaft after the explosion. "I just heard a big blast that shook me and I ran for the shaft."

Sheriff George Richart of Boulder said it would be hours before rescue crews could make any headway against the debris.

League Refuses Ethiopian Plea For Commission

Council Awaits Move By Premier Mussolini Of Italy

By Joseph E. Sharkey,
Associated Press Foreign Staff
Geneva, Jan. 20.—(AP)—The League of Nations Council met in a long-awaited session today but made no move to settle the Italo-Ethiopian war.

Despite a new protest from Ethiopia for aid, the council rejected a plea from Emperor Haile Selassie to send a commission of inquiry to the war zone and to give the empire financial aid.

In its note, Ethiopia said: "Ethiopia is learning the cruel lesson that small peoples must rely chiefly upon themselves to defend their independence and integrity."

The impression prevailed tonight that the council, dismayed at the collapse of previous peace efforts under its auspices, now awaits for Mussolini to make a move.

Baron Pompeo Aloisi, the Italian delegate, attended in the council session but was silent. Premier Mussolini disclosed no signs of coming forward with a new peace proposal.

One Italian said: "Italy herself will arrange the Ethiopian question. We shall not accept any league imposed peace."

Emperor Haile Selassie, in a dolorously worded plea, asked for new economic sanctions against Italy and for funds.

Financial Crisis Is Feared When Premier Resigns

M. Laval Will Make No Effort To Patch Up His Cabinet

By Richard G. Massock,
Associated Press Staff Writer
Paris, Jan. 20.—(AP)—French banking circles tonight reflected fear of a financial crisis in the wake of the expected collapse of Premier Pierre Laval's cabinet.

M. Laval's friends said the independent premier would hand his resignation and that of his cabinet to President Albert Lebrun Wednesday, and Laval himself made known at Geneva he would neither try to patch up his cabinet nor take his fight with the dominant Radical-Socialist party to the Chambers of Deputies.

The Radical-Socialists, now headed by Edouard Daladier, foe of M. Laval, have been maneuvering cautiously to overthrow the premier either by resignation of their six ministers from the government or by a vote of non-confidence in the Chamber of Deputies.

The treasury's need to borrow $600,000,000 francs ($550,000,000 before May) was cited by the sources which warned devaluation of the franc might be forced by a financial crisis.

M. Laval constantly has opposed devaluation.

French hoarders of some 40,000,000,000 francs ($2,700,000,000) are the treasury's chief hope as a source of funds.

But, financiers said, these hoarders are unlikely to bring their money out of hiding unless confidence in the government's stability is restored.

Pierre-Etienne Flandin, former premier, today was mentioned as a possible choice to succeed M. Laval, although many considered selection of a Radical-Socialist as premier was more likely.

Martial Law Is Declared In Two Indiana Counties

Union Supporters Determined That Shirt Plant Shall Not Re-open

New Albany, Ind., Jan. 20.—(AP)—After a day of fighting between non-union workers, mostly women and girls, and union supporters who were determined that M. Fine and company shirt manufacturing plants here and at Jefferson would not reopen today, Indiana National Guardsmen made martial law effective in Clark and Floyd counties tonight.

A total of 113 non-union workers, about 100 of them women and girls, fought their way into the Jeffersonville plant this morning, through hostile picket lines. Many of them were beaten and their clothes torn despite efforts of 90 police and special deputies to stop the rioting.

The Jeffersonville factory, however, did not operate, and strikers said none of the skilled workers had returned to work. The New Albany plant did not attempt to operate.

Governor Paul V. McNutt ordered the two counties under martial law at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Col. Paul Fichtman, in charge of several hundred troops ordered here by Governor McNutt, said quiet had been restored tonight. The non-union workers were escorted home by the guardsmen with fixed bayonets.

Several persons were taken in custody by local police and later turned over to the National Guardsmen.

Governor Horner Wants An Honest Count In Primary

Will Decide Today Whether He Will Call Special Session

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 20.—(AP)—Returning from Chicago tonight, Gov. Henry Horner said he would make a definite decision tomorrow on whether he would call a third special session of the legislature to enact a permanent registration law.

"It isn't a bad idea," the governor said, "the only thing I'm concerned about in the campaign is an honest count in the primary."

Earlier in the day at the state house members of the governor's advisory group said he had virtually agreed to calling the session which they said would include a request for legislation to return Chicago park board appointive powers to the governor.

The authority at present rests with Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago, who threw out Horner as the gubernatorial candidate to be supported by Cook county Democrats.

The governor was suffering from a cold when he returned to the capitol tonight, and his physician was summoned to the executive mansion immediately. Mr. Horner's appointments for the evening were canceled and he retired.

Mr. Horner's intimation that he would seek to secure passage of a permanent registration law as an emergency measure effective before the April 14 primaries was in contradiction to a state house report that he sought enactment of the law effective July 1 as part of a bargain between forces and Cook county State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney.

According to the report, which started in the office of one of the governor's staunchest friends, Courtney fears Mayor Kelly will attempt to dump him in the November election after carrying him through the primary with the Chicago organization ticket.

The governor did not comment on the possibility that he and Courtney had entered into a political deal.

The legislature, meanwhile, prepared to resume tomorrow night the work of the first two special sessions, now running concurrently. The only important business slated for the week's opening session was appointment of a conference committee which will consider house and senate differences on the old age pension administration measure.

Chase National Bank Of New York Is Still In First Place

New York, Jan. 20.—(AP)—The American Banker today made public its 1935 list of 100 largest banks in the United States which revealed two additions to the $1,000,000,000 deposit class and only minor changes in the positions of the 20 top-ranking institutions.

Deposits in the 100 biggest banks aggregated $25,101,857,466, an increase of $3,209,327,639 over the $21,892,329,827 reported by the group that comprised the 100 largest institutions in 1934.

Chase National Bank of New York retained its number one place with deposits of $2,075,121,901, followed in order by National City Bank of New York, Guaranty Trust Co. of New York, and Bank of American N. Y. & S. A. of San Francisco.

The last named bank, together with Continental Illinois National Bank & Trust Co., of Chicago, were the newcomers to the billion dollar group.

Continental Illinois, in achieving this distinction, went from sixth place in the 1934 list to fifth place this year, displacing the Bankers Trust Co. of New York, which was number five in 1934.

Other changes in positions of the first 20 banks included Irving Trust Co. of New York, which went from number 14 to 12.

The five top ranking institutions and the count of deposits, as of Dec. 31, 1935, follow:

1. Chase National Bank, New York City, $2,075,121,901.

2. National City Bank, New York, $1,632,366,244.

3. Guaranty Trust Company, of New York, $1,523,931,162.

Utility Tax Law Constitutional

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 20.—(AP)—Circuit Judge L. E. Stone upheld the constitutionality of the three per cent utility tax today, ruling for the state in an injunction suit brought by the Illinois Bell Telephone company.

Public and private utilities were ordered to pay three per cent on telephone, telegraph, gas water and electric sales under the law enacted by the 1935 legislature to raise relief revenue.

Other cases challenging the utility sales tax act have been held up pending a ruling in the Sangamon county circuit court on the telephone suit.

The telephone company contended the state department of finance had improperly interpreted the utility law in promulgating regulations.

QUESTION CONVICTS

New York, Jan. 20.—(AP)—The Herald Tribune says two men, now serving terms in New York prisons, are being questioned by an agent of Governor Hoffmann of New Jersey in his investigation of the Lindbergh kidnapping.

It was learned today the Herald Tribune says that G. L. Lockwood, an inspector in the New Jersey motor vehicle department, obtained a court order last week permitting him to see the two men.

They are Dennis Doyle, 35, serving a term at Riker's Island for unlawful entry, and Walter Miller, alias Walter Struhl, now in the Tombs for petit larceny.

New Farm Program Will Be Explained To 2,500 Farmers

I.A.A. Meeting Jan. 29-31 at Decatur Awaited with Interest

Chicago—(P)—The new farm program, designed to replace the outlawed AAA, will be explained in detail before the Illinois Agricultural Association at its annual meeting in Decatur, Jan. 29-31, officials said today.

President Earl Smith, in announcing the 20th of speakers, said they would attract national interest since this was the first general farm meeting since the Supreme Court invalidated the AAA.

Chester C. Davis, AAA administrator and Marvin Jones, Texas, chairman of the house committee on agriculture, together with Edward O'Neal, national president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, are expected to carry the brunt of Farm-AAA planning for the farmers, Smith said.

The state president, himself chairman of the committee of 13 chosen by agricultural leaders to help draft new legislation, will speak at one session, and has indicated he will touch on the farm problem nationally, as well.

Municipal bonds are deferred taxes. Vote "NO" three times. (Adv.)

Plan Survey Of All Relief Cases In Scott County

Commission To Gather Data On Conditions: News Notes

Winchester, Jan. 20.—Members of the staff of the Scott County Emergency Relief Commission have started an intensive survey of all relief cases which were open as of Saturday, January 18, according to Chairman Guy Paul. The survey will have the following major objectives:

1. To obtain a complete review of all open cases on the Commission's rolls.

2. To ascertain that every case eligible for WPA employment has been certified to the employment service.

3. To make certain that every case assigned to WPA has either accepted the assignment, has been referred back to the relief service by the WPA as not acceptable through proper certification, or that the worker has for legitimate reasons been unable to accept the assignment.

4. To make certain that all cases which have refused assignments without legitimate reason have been closed or will be closed promptly.

This survey is being carried out under instructions of the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission as part of a statewide program to strengthen wherever possible the control over certifications to WPA and to systematically reduce relief rolls as assignments are made.

Substantial reductions in the Scott County Emergency Relief Commission's case load have been and are being made as a result of WPA assignments, according to Chairman Paul, who reported that during December alone a total of 198 resident family cases were closed because of such assignments.

The survey, he states, will give an accurate picture not only of what has been accomplished, but also of the cases which have been certified but are not yet assigned.

The actual survey will be made by the case work staff in cooperation with the county statistician. It will show the number of WPA assignments which are being supplemented, and the number of WPA assignments which have not completed their first full semi-monthly work period. Detailed information will also be obtained on cases which have been certified but not assigned. This will show the number eligible for immediate assignment, the cases in which changes in priority are being made in order to affect assignments, and cases in which only eligible worker is ill or employed part time and therefore not eligible for WPA employment at the present time. The information will be supplemented by data on cases which are scheduled for closing for reasons other than WPA employment.

Plan Oyster Supper

FEDERATED CHURCH CLUB MEMBERS HEAR REV. A. VANDERHORST

The Men's Federated church club held the regular supper meeting last evening in the Baptist church basement. Rev. Aric Vanderhorst presented his address on "The Dangerous Portents."

The message deals with the human experiences that come to the period of middle age and the most satisfactory solutions to the problems they create. This brilliant address has been presented on previous occasions to Jacksonville audiences with enthusiastic receptions.

Rev. Vanderhorst stated last night that the complete text was in the hands of a New York publisher, and would soon be available in pamphlet form.

The meeting was presided over by John Taylor who dispensed with the business meeting and usual musical program in order that members might be able to attend several scheduled meetings which followed.

Mayor Bangs Talks Light Plant Issue

Final Presentation Proposal Is Made At Meeting Here Monday

An enthusiastic audience in the auditorium of the Jacksonville High school last night heard the final presentation of arguments in behalf of the proposed municipal electric light and power plant. Mayor C. W. H. Bangs of Huntington, Indiana, the principal speaker of the evening, told of Huntington's efforts to acquire a municipal light plant. He told about his fight with the public utilities.

Opening the meeting, Harlan Williamson, chairman for the evening, presented the executive committee of the Municipal Light Plant League, pointing out the representative character of the committee and the spirit of harmony and unselfish public service which had prevailed throughout the campaign.

Orville N. Foreman, attorney for the project, explained the legal features of the proposed project, pointing out the necessity for voting on each of the three propositions which appear on the ballot. He urged that everyone be encouraged to vote and that all persons be advised of the need for marking the ballot three times. Mr. Foreman declared, "This project is not and cannot become a public debt, payable out of taxes."

Next to appear on the program was the city's consulting engineer, Alex Van Praeg, Jr. Using the opposition's list of advertisements as a basis for his remarks, the engineer proceeded to answer one by one in vigorous style the criticisms leveled against the proposal.

Mayor Fletcher Blackburn presented the main speaker of the evening, referring to him as a lawyer, publisher, and a fearless public official. Mayor Bangs opened by pointing out that electricity like water was a commodity to which everyone was entitled, under control of the people themselves. He cited examples of low rates under municipal ownership in various Indiana cities, which, coupled with tax reductions of substantial size, roused the people of Huntington to keen enthusiasm in the cause of municipal ownership. Their united effort resulted in the development of an efficient plant which has reduced rates over 28 percent in the few months in which it has been in actual operation.

The speaker further stated that in his opinion there was no reason why the city of Jacksonville in establishing a competitive plant could not do likewise, quoting the spokesmen for private utilities as announcing at regular intervals, "It is our policy to meet competition."

Members of the Jacksonville city council were present in a body, with the exception of Alderman Mathews, who was attending the golden wedding anniversary of his parents.

Woodson
